President's Message

March is almost here, and with it warmer days, more sunlight, and therefore, more optimism. March 8 is the 100th anniversary of International Women's Day. We should all do something special for another woman to help her smile or overcome some hurdle in her life. Maybe we need to do something for ourselves... Let us celebrate our achievements and give ourselves a pat on the back!

I was disappointed at the February meeting to find that almost nobody wanted to participate in the Nominations Committee. While the Strategic Planning Committee is looking into the Club's future path, I will be most interested to see where you, the members and stakeholders, want to see the MLUWC a few years hence. I wonder if you realize that two clubs in Quebec have folded because they could not find anybody willing to serve on the executive after a certain number of iterations. I worry that if members are not even willing to participate in the Nominations Committee, how many would consider serving on the MLUWC executive. Surely, with a group of more than 200 talented, educated, altruistic women MLUWC can continue to be a vibrant and successful club for years to come—but we need your help to make that happen!

Happy International Women's Day!

Chitra Chopra

Good News from Away

Louise McLeod is a Past President of our Club who now lives in Doylestown, PA.
She continues to keep her MLUWC membership and so receives news of us each month.

As the Communications Convener and board member of the newly-formed Women Graduates-USA, IFUW's newest NFA, Louise felt we might like to know a little about their work. She is also on the board of the Virginia Gildersleeve International Fund and a member of the Doylestown AAUW Branch.

The Power of Education in Effecting Change

IFUW Programme for Action 2010-2013

By Louise McLeod: IFUW Status of Women Committee

The 2010-2013 IFUW Programme for Action is based upon 4 pillars or themes for the triennium.

Pillar 1: Education for Empowerment and Leadership

Definition: Raise awareness and understanding and create opportunities through ongoing formal and informal education for women and girls to become literate, knowledgeable and independent and take an equal role in leadership and decision-making in both individual and public life.

Pillar 2: Education for a Sustainable Future

Definition: Raise awareness and create opportunities through ongoing formal and informal education on how to live in a way that sustains environmental, social and economic processes, and ensures a just distribution of resources.

Pillar 3: Education for Freedom from Violence

Definition: Raise awareness and understanding of what constitutes violence and how to take action to create environments in which nations, communities and individuals can prosper free from physical, psychological, economic, social and cultural violence.

Pillar 4: Education for Financial Independence, Employment and Entrepreneurship

Definition: Raise awareness and understanding for women and girls to become financially literate and learn to understand how to obtain and manage finances and other resources; matters essential for women's autonomy. By doing this, create opportunities for women to become employed, self-employed and / or entrepreneurs.

The work of IFUW is to empower women and girls through lifelong education for leadership, decision-making, and peace. IFUW's four priority action areas are education for the girl child, adult literacy for women, access to and the advancement of women in higher education, and empowering women to be leaders and decision makers.

How Others in our Society Manage

The Issues and Resolutions Group recently received anthropologist Ann Douglas at one of their meetings.. Ann is in the process of writing a book about the Inu, having taught and lived with aboriginal people in Cape Breton among the Micmac and in Arctic Bay among the Inuit. We eagerly await her book, as what she managed to tell us in under two hours was so interesting.

We learned the Inuit way of sharing responsibilities in their communities through extended family ties and lateral relatives, very important in the harsh climate of the North.

In the modern world we separate work and family life. The traditional Inuit way combined work (survival) and play in a highly disciplined manner. The group, family, community, came first. Children had to learn hard lessons early so that they could be really self-sufficient. European influences have produced many changes in their way of life, not all bad, but obviously not all good either.

As we discussed these First Nations' issues, we read A Fair Country by John Ralston Saul. Also on our reading list are The White Dawn by James A Houston, Champlain's Dream by David Hackett Fischer, and Encounters on the passage by Dorothy Harley Eber, who visited Nunavut and wrote stories of expeditionary forces and their dealings with the native people
